Review (due 03/25/2026)

Introduction

Review all annotated class notes. You should notice additional details or context added after class.

Describe, in sufficient detail,

- one concept, technique, or command that stands out as useful or perhaps more useful than you might have thought originally.
- one concept, technique, or command that still seems confusing, mysterious, or unhelpful. It is expected that you will be critical, so as long as you are reasonable, critique is applauded, appreciated, and makes these resources better for all of us.
- based on what has been discussed so far describe (or ask) a question you have that has gone unanswered or unaddressed. If you ask a direct question, provide a reasonable rationale for how it fits with our goals.
- based on what has been discussed so far, make a request for content that could appear before the end of the semester. To increase the chances that your request makes it into the semester, feel free to email this portion as soon as you have a well-formed idea. For email use the subject “can we talk about...?”

Include your response(s) to the above items in a single .pdf file, uploaded to the appropriate D2L folder by Wednesday, March 25. In keeping with the theme, please do not use AI for this assignment.
